Few Features Have Developed Within the Past Few Days, According to General March's Official Statement Outlining the Situation.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 27.—While the French-American offensive is still being maintained, it is slowing down materially, Chief of Staff March told the members of the Senate military affairs committee today. General March outlined the general situation, saying that few outstanding features had developed in the past few days.

The war department is still without any report on the casualties suffered by the Americans in the present drive, General March said, and no estimate could be made at this time. The general situation continues to be entirely satisfactory, he declared.

The present position of the fighting according to the latest despatches to the war department is the same as last week in the vicinity and around the south of Soissons.

The original line of the drive was 74 miles long and the present line is 64 miles long, the Allies having won ten miles. The area now won is more than equal to that won by the enemy in Flanders last April. We are now three and a half miles from Fere en Tardennois, the biggest German supply depot, and which the Allies are continuously shelling. The nearest point the Germans are from Paris is now 49 miles and before the counter attack they were but 38 miles from Paris, said the chief of staff.

In response to questions, General March revealed the units which make up the four regular army divisions now in France. They are as follows:

First—16th, 18th, 26th and 28th infantry, and 5th, 6th and 7th field artillery.

Second—First and Sixth Marine regiments, 9th and 23rd infantry, and 12th, 15th, and 17th field artillery.

Third—Fourth and Seventh Marine regiments, 30th and 38th infantry, and 10th, 18th and 26th field artillery.

Fourth—39th, 47th, 78th and 59th infantry, and field artillery not announced.

FIGHT GERMAN AMERICAN FORCES IN THUNDER STORM PRESSING FORWARD

By Telegram to The Freeman.
With the American Army at the Aisne, July 26.—(Night)—American forces engaged the Germans this afternoon in the heart of a thunderstorm, attacking in the Riz Forest, east of Charnel. In the late afternoon they were pressing forward beneath a radiant rainbow that flamed in the sky, high above the battlefield, giving it a theatrical aspect.

Information reaching the rear to-night indicated that the Germans were offering the stiffest kind of resistance in the ravine near Charnel where there were thick nests of machine guns. The Germans, further east, adopted their favorite method of stringing machine guns in the trees and open spaces of the forest. They poured a hot fire into our advancing troops, but the American artillery did good work in smashing the "nests."

The Germans were "strafed" throughout last night by the American gunners and the attacks today were rendered less difficult by the effective work of the artillery.

The stubborn way in which the Boches have been holding on in this zone indicates that they either hope to deliver counter blows soon or else they have not yet had a chance to remove their material between the wooded ground north of the Marne and Fere en Tardennois.

North of this area we made further progress, taking a group of farm houses that the Germans had converted into forts. They were well defended with machine guns.

One of these block houses stood near Beauvais, commanding the Chateau Thierry-Fere en Tardennois road and was held by 19 Germans.

The Germans had been ordered to fight to the death, but this morning when they looked out they saw Americans on their right and French cavalry on their left and they raised the white flag without making any resistance.

In the same region 14 Germans had been holding up our advance from a slight rise in the ground. They had been fighting by night and sleeping by day and knew nothing of the retirement of their main army. They began to wonder why rations were not being brought up and started from their dugouts to investigate. They had not gone far before they ran into a patrol of American doughboys. The Americans made prisoners of the whole lot.

There have been several instances where the Germans deliberately sacrificed small groups that were left behind to stay the Franco-American advance.

One German company had been reduced to 32 men by the terrific shelling of the American artillery. It was commanded by a "non-com."

They had three light machine guns to support the forces holding a front of nearly a kilometre east of Epieds.

When the Americans swarmed in from both sides they captured all but two of the Boches. Among the prisoners taken in this sector was a Polish artillery officer, who said he had been ordered to retire. But he was so angered by the German treatment of the Poles, who, he said, never received any decorations nor the same treatment accorded to the others, that he decided to stay behind and surrender.

In spite of low hanging clouds there was much air activity today, especially during the morning.

1,253,000 MEN NOW IN FRANCE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 27.—There are now 1,253,000 American fighters overseas, General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, told the senate military affairs committee today. Last week 53,000 were transported, and this represents a considerable falling off from the 90,000 weekly average that has been maintained recently. However, it was due to the fact, he said, that much more shipping space than usual had been given over to equipment and supplies.

Zoller of 587 Abel street was transferred today by local board 1 from class 2 to class I-A, the change being made at the personal request of Zoller, who stated that he wanted to go just as soon as there was an opportunity and get busy fighting for Uncle Sam. Appeal to German People.

Zurich, July 27.—The Kaiser and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg have issued an appeal to the German people to remain calm and not demoralize the army with pessimism, said a despatch from Berlin today quoting the "Lokal Anzeiger." The Kaiser tried to buoy up the hopes of the German people by telling them that the Allies were putting in the last of their reserves to "resist the victorious advance of the Germans." Hindenburg said that patience was necessary.

Aid Raids on Germany.

Peace Talk in Austria.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Copenhagen, July 27.—Strong "peace talk" is being addressed to the Austrian parliament in Vienna according to information received from that city today.

One Socialist member demanded that the premier negotiate at once to "obtain clearer war aims." He declared that the conflict should not continue along the lines of imperialism and the annexationist policies. The German war party, he added, was becoming supreme and was preventing peace which is absolutely necessary to the life of Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey.

Deputy Muller, addressing a party of workmen, asked whether "Germany's aims were worth the continuation of famine."

The Socialist newspaper Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna reports serious disorders at Prague as the result of famine. The city has been with out bread for twenty days.

BRIEF REVIEW OF THE BATTLE NEWS

Strong hope for a glorious victory for Allied arms marks the fourth anniversary of the world war.

Just ten days ago the French and American armies standing on the Aisne-Marne-Champagne front unleashed a terrific counter offensive that has won vastly important ground from the Germans and has completely upset the "driving plans" of the German high command.

Two great pivotal positions between the Aisne and Marne rivers have been taken by the Franco-Americans in storm attacks—Chateau Thierry and Outchy-le-Chateau.

While the Allies have been compelled to slow up their advance, they are still gaining at important sectors of the fifty-five mile battle line heightening the menace to the German troops that are still trying to hold on along the southern side of the Aisne-Marne salient.

During the night the French extended their lines north of Port-a-Binson, on the northern bank of the Marne near Chailillon Sur Marne, but the Germans are putting up desperate resistance in that zone.

The greatest Allied gains have been made immediately north of Chateau Thierry where the maximum advance is about fourteen miles.

Americans have had the lion's share of the credit in the fighting in that area.

The past ten days have witnessed a complete reversal of Allied military tactics. Instead of remaining upon the defensive and harassing the Germans with minor operations General Foch decided upon a brave stroke and he made good the military motto that boldness wins.

All of the important Soissons-Outchy-le-Chateau-Thierry-Thierry railway is now in Allied hands and a great encircling movement is in progress on the northern end of the front, directed against Soissons and Fere-en-Tardennois.

Both of these positions are strong pivots defending the western flank of the German wedge.

Soissons is so strongly fortified by the Germans (who have the advantage of high ground) that frontal attack was deemed inadvisable. Therefore the Allies have concentrated their pressure to the south of the city, trying a "pocketing movement."

Barely more than three miles of ground separate the French and American forces from the German supply center at Fere-en-Tardennois.

Chateau Thierry was captured on the fourth day of the counter drive; Outchy-le-Chateau fell four days later.

All of the southern bank of the Marne river had been cleared of Germans by July 19, but east of Jaulgonne the enemy has been striving desperately to hold on to high wooded ground on the northern side.

It is a significant fact that the Allies have captured more guns from the Germans in the present counter offensive than in any other drive they have undertaken since the beginning of the war. The prisoners number between 25,000 and 30,000.

Troops of four nations are arrayed against the Germans—French, Americans, British and Italians.

British reinforcements were drawn from the north to meet the German reserves from Rupprecht's army in Flanders and they have given an excellent account of themselves in the fighting southwest of Rimsch where the Allies are forging ahead south of the Rhims-Fismes railway.

The Allied advance in this zone is intended to narrow the base of the German salient and to close the "bottle neck" through which the German armies must retire northward.

As the situation stands today the initiative is in the hands of the Allies, but a savage counter thrust is looked for. Just where it will fall cannot be determined as yet for the Germans must realize their force before they can undertake an offsetting drive on the big scale.

The end of the fourth year of the war finds Americans standing on every part of the western front. They are in Flanders, on the Pignard Plains, south of the Aisne, in the Champagne district, on the Heights of the Meuse, in the Woerw Plain, and in the Vosges mountains. They have shown their mettle in many a stern engagement and their fighting qualities have aroused the admiration of all the Entente countries.

Martin Defends Fellow Paraders.

Bubbling Enthusiasm Regrets There Was Not More Uproar and Interruption of Needed War Work in This City.

To the Editor,
Dear Sir:

Relative to several articles in your edition of Friday concerning the demonstrations or parades, held in our city by the citizens of Kingston and neighboring towns to which your writers objected so strongly. I wish to say a few words in the celebratory behalf, if you will kindly allow a few inches of your valuable news space for its publication.

It was said they were idiots, drunks, etc., that paraded the streets in the evening, Thursday, keeping people who were compelled to work awake and it was all unbecoming and instead they should contribute to the Home Defense Committee, to show their patriotism.

As I was one of the paraders, which composed the large assemblage, let me say for them that they were not idiots, drunks or the like as your writer would have the people believe who were unable to see the parade or demonstration.

When word reached Kingston that the Allies, including the American forces, had surrounded or shut off the gateway of the Germans, the people of Kingston, yet with their hearts full of patriotism for their sons, brothers or near relatives who had left that morning, or for those who have already landed on the other side was a signal for them to let their hearts out. They had withstood the ordeal of seeing their dear ones go into the war, or break of the war, with out a tear, but as the Americans had made such a gallant showing, it was about time they done some shouting instead of crying in Kingston.

And further let me say that they were all hard working men and women who paraded and were willing to lose a night's sleep to show that they appreciated the advance of the Americans—our own boys. They went to work the next morning, tired, but satisfied, and will parade again night or day if an advance or victory warrants it.

It is very easy for a reporter or writer who has no son, brother or relative to compose such a story, but put him in the place of a mother, sister, father or brother who has and if he has any love for his country or them you will find him in the front ranks of the paraders—but it's an easy matter to roast others if he happens to be one of a few of the fortunate ones.

As for contributing to show your patriotism, who has done more in our city, taking into consideration their incomes, than the factory girls and boys? They sleep on top and in Kingston or Saugerties or any Ulster county town you will find them always ready to give and do a little more than their share.

The people having been informed by Alderman-at-Large Watts that Mayor Canfield was out of town are very sorry he was. He was greatly missed, for you can bet that when it comes to parading he would not have been in bed and feel sore because he was deprived of a few hours rest, but would have been in Saugerties delegation with an escort and we would have had real parade.

When the people of Kingston have several good funerals and continue the pace set by the few of our city Thursday night and Friday our old Colonial town will thereafter continue to wake up and get the business man who wants to locate in a wide awake town. For the sleepers the haunts of Rip Van Winkle are calling.

More power to the paraders, including the factory girls and men, when any victory by our boys warrants it, let loose; it's only a very few people in Kingston who have no sons or relatives in the fight.

Thanking you in advance for giving this item your consideration, I am, Always for Parading, EX-ALDERMAN W. B. MARTIN.

Appeal to German People.

Zurich, July 27.—The Kaiser and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg have issued an appeal to the German people to remain calm and not demoralize the army with pessimism, said a despatch from Berlin today quoting the "Lokal Anzeiger." The Kaiser tried to buoy up the hopes of the German people by telling them that the Allies were putting in the last of their reserves to "resist the victorious advance of the Germans." Hindenburg said that patience was necessary.

Aid Raids on Germany.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, July 27.—Twelve German towns were raided by Allied airmen during the week ended today, the distances covered making a brand new record. Altogether 25 raids were carried out and many tons of bombs were dropped.

Peace Talk in Austria.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Copenhagen, July 27.—Strong "peace talk" is being addressed to the Austrian parliament in Vienna according to information received from that city today.

One Socialist member demanded that the premier negotiate at once to "obtain clearer war aims." He declared that the conflict should not continue along the lines of imperialism and the annexationist policies. The German war party, he added, was becoming supreme and was preventing peace which is absolutely necessary to the life of Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey.

Deputy Muller, addressing a party of workmen, asked whether "Germany's aims were worth the continuation of famine."

The Socialist newspaper Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna reports serious disorders at Prague as the result of famine. The city has been with out bread for twenty days.

FRENCH-AMERICAN OFFENSIVE IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

Few Features Have Developed Within the Past Few Days, According to General March's Official Statement Outlining the Situation.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 27.—While the French-American offensive is still being maintained, it is slowing down materially, Chief of Staff March told the members of the Senate military affairs committee today. General March outlined the general situation, saying that few outstanding features had developed in the past few days.

The war department is still without any report on the casualties suffered by the Americans in the present drive, General March said, and no estimate could be made at this time. The general situation continues to be entirely satisfactory, he declared.

The present position of the fighting according to the latest despatches to the war department is the same as last week in the vicinity and around the south of Soissons.

The original line of the drive was 74 miles long and the present line is 64 miles long, the Allies having won ten miles. The area now won is more than equal to that won by the enemy in Flanders last April. We are now three and a half miles from Fere en Tardennois, the biggest German supply depot, and which the Allies are continuously shelling.

The nearest point the Germans are from Paris is now 49 miles and before the counter attack they were but 38 miles from Paris, said the chief of staff.

In response to questions, General March revealed the units which make up the four regular army divisions now in France. They are as follows:

First—16th, 18th, 20th and 28th infantry, and 5th, 6th and 7th field artillery.

Second—First and Sixth Marine regiments, 9th and 33rd infantry, and 12th, 13th, and 17th field artillery.

Third—Fourth and Seventh Marine regiments, 30th and 38th infantry, and 10th, 18th and 26th field artillery.

Fourth—39th, 47th, 78th and 50th infantry, and field artillery not announced.

Mr. Clark was shown through the building by City Treasurer James E. Canfield and expressed great admiration for the city of Kingston. He is on his way by motor with his family to Cooperstown Lake.

The Kaiser Disappointed.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Amsterdam, July 27.—Karl Rosner of the staff of the Berlin Lokalanzeiger and the Kaiser's "pet" correspondent, reveals in dispatches to his paper that the Kaiser and his generals expected the greatest possible results from the German drive on the Marne.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 27.—There are now 1,253,000 American fighters overseas, General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, told the senate military affairs committee today. Last week 33,000 were transported, and this represents a considerable falling off from the 90,000 weekly average that has been maintained recently. However, it was due to the fact, he said, that much more shipping space than usual had been given over to equipment and supplies.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 27.—The formation of 2 new army corps in France in addition to the three already announced, and the arrival from France of new combat troops in Italy besides those already sent from the United States, was announced by General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, in his weekly conference today with representatives of the press. The number of new troops sent to Italy, and the exact places to which they have been detailed, is information not yet received by the war department, General March said.

The two new army corps are the Fourth and the Fifth, and are commanded respectively by Major General George W. Reed and Major General Omar Bundy. They are constituted as follows:

Fourth Corps—82nd Division, National Army, under command of Major General Glenn; 89th National Army, under Major General Winn; 27th National Guard, Brigadier General Farnsworth; 29th National Guard, Major General Morton; 30th National Army, Major General Allen; and the 32nd National Army, composed of colored troops under Brigadier General Ballou.

Fifth Corps—Sixth Division, regular army, Major General Erwin; 36th National Guard, Major General W. K. Smith; 76th National Army, Major General Hodges; 78th National Army, Major General Kuhn; 85th National Army, Major General Kennedy, and 91st National Army, Brigadier General W. F. Foltz.

Appeal to German People.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Zurich, July 27.—The Kaiser and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg have issued an appeal to the German people to remain calm and not demoralize the army with pessimism, said a despatch from Berlin today quoting the Lokai Anzeiger. The Kaiser tried to buoy up the hopes of the German people by telling them that the Allies were putting in the last of their reserves to "restrain the victorious advance of the Germans," Hindenburg said that patience was necessary.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, July 27.—Twelve German towns were raided by Allied airmen during the week ended today, the distances covered making a brand new record. Altogether 25 raids were carried out and many tons of bombs were dropped.

Evening Service Omitted.

Owing to the patriotic service to be held at McVey's Field Sunday evening, the evening service at the Pevackhoeke Union Congregational Church will be omitted.

BRIEF REVIEW OF THE BATTLE NEWS

Strong hope for a glorious victory for Allied arms marks the fourth anniversary of the world war.

Just ten days ago the French and American armies standing on the Aisne-Marne-Champagne front unleashed a terrific counter offensive that has won vastly important ground from the Germans and has completely upset the "driving plans" of the German high command.

Two great pivotal positions between the Aisne and Marne rivers have been taken by the Franco-Americans in storm attacks—Chateau Thierry and Outchyle-Chateau.

While the Allies have been compelled to slow up their advance, they are still gaining at important sectors of the fifty-five mile battle line heightening the menace to the German troops that are still trying to hold on along the southern side of the Aisne-Marne salient.

During the night the French extended their lines north of Port-a-Binson, on the northern bank of the Marne near Chailion Sur Marne, but the Germans are putting up desperate resistance in that zone.

The greatest Allied gains have been made immediately north of Chateau Thierry where the maximum advance is about fourteen miles.

Americans have had the lion's share of the credit in the fighting in that area.

The past ten days have witnessed a complete reversal of Allied military tactics. Instead of remaining upon the defensive and harassing the Germans with minor operations General Foch decided upon a brave stroke and he made good the military motto that boldness wins.

All of the important Soissons-Outchyle-Chateau-Chateau Thierry railway is now in Allied hands and a great encircling movement is in progress on the northern end of the front, directed against Soissons and Perre-en-Tardennois.

Both of these positions are strong pivots defending the western flank of the German wedge.

Soissons is so strongly fortified by the Germans (who have the advantage of high ground) that frontal attack was deemed inadvisable. Therefore the Allies have concentrated their pressure to the south of the city, trying a "hocketing movement."

Barely more than three miles of ground separate the French and American forces from the German supply center at Perre-en-Tardennois.

Chateau Thierry was captured on the fourth day of the counter drive; Outchyle-Chateau fell four days later.

All of the southern bank of the Marne river had been cleared of Germans by July 19, but east of Jaulgonne the enemy has been striving desperately to hold on to high wooded ground on the northern side.

It is a significant fact that the Allies have captured more guns from the Germans in the present counter offensive than in any other drive they have undertaken since the beginning of the war. The prisoners number between 25,000 and 30,000.

Troops of four nations are arrayed against the Germans—French, Americans, British and Italians.

British reinforcements were drawn from the north to meet the German reserves from Rupprecht's army in Flanders and they have given an excellent account of themselves in the fighting southwest of Rheims where the Allies are forging ahead south of the Rheims-Fismes railway.

The Allied advance in this zone is intended to narrow the base of the German salient and to close the "bottle neck" through which the German armies must retire northward.

As the situation stands today the initiative is in the hands of the Allies, but a savage counter thrust is looked for. Just where it will fall cannot be determined as yet for the Germans must realize their forces before they can undertake an offsetting drive on the big scale.

The end of the fourth year of the war finds Americans standing on every part of the western front. They are in Flanders, on the Ploeghe Plateau, south of the Aisne, in the Champagne district, on the Heights of the Vosges, in the Meuse, in the Vosges mountains, and their fighting qualities have aroused the admiration of all the Entente countries.

PEACE TALK IN AUSTRIA

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Copenhagen, July 27.—Strong "peace talk" is being addressed to the Austrian parliament in Vienna according to information received from that city today.

One Socialist member demanded that the premier negotiate at once to "obtain clearer war aims." He declared that the conflict should not continue along the lines of imperialism and the annexationist policies. The German war party, he added, was becoming supreme and was preventing peace which is absolutely necessary to the life of Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey.

Deputy Muller, addressing a party of workmen, asked whether "German's

FLAG RAISING AT MCVEY FIELD

Interesting Program of Exercises
Will Accompany Presentation of Colors By Trade and Labor Council.

Interesting flag raising exercises are promised for Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at McVey Field. The flag to be raised at that time is a handsome, large-sized banner that is presented to the city by The United Trade and Labor Council.

Muller's band has a large program of choice music, so the band will give more than ordinary entertainment. The program of the evening includes besides the band music, the formality of pledging allegiance to the flag, and a series of sketchy dances by children who are being trained and at the field will be directed by Nicholas Piccinno and Miss Harrietta Plennons. The presentation of the flag in behalf of the United Trade and Labor Council will be made by A. J. Cook. Mayor Canfield was expected to be present to receive the flag. Today he is out of town. It was said at his office that he would not return until Monday. In the case of his absence Sunday night President of the Common Council Samuel Wait, who is always the acting mayor when that official is out of town, will serve satisfactorily in his place.

Harry Flemming, president of the board of education, will preside. There will be solos by Miss Virginia Los Kamp and a recitation by Miss Agnes Howard.

It is expected that the public will turn out in large numbers. The labor council will march in a body to the field. After the formal presentation has been finished Director of Public Recreation Buley will put on an excellent program with some of his students in athletics.

The program in full is as follows:

thereof, when such compensation is not made by the state, shall be ascertained by a jury, or by the supreme court with or without a jury, as determined by a jury of freeholders, and such compensation shall be paid by a court of record, as shall be prescribed by a law. Private roads may be opened in the manner to be prescribed by law, but in every case the necessity of the road and the amount of all damages to be sustained by the opening thereof, shall be first determined by a jury of freeholders, and such amount, together with the expenses of the proceeding, shall be paid by the person to be benefited. General laws may be passed to regulate the opening of roads, and to provide for the construction and maintenance of the drainage thereof, necessary drains, ditches and upon lands or other, under proper restrictions and with just compensation, but no special laws shall be enacted for such purposes.

The legislature shall have power to make more land and property than is needed for actual construction in the laying out, widening, extending or relocating roads, public places, highways or streets, provided, however, that the additional land and property so authorized to be taken shall be no more than sufficient to form suitable building sites abutting on such park, public place, highway or street. After so much of the land and property has been appropriated for each park, public place, highway or street as is needed therefor, the remainder may be sold or leased.

The legislature may also authorize cities, for the establishment of a uniform system of streets, to take real property within an abandoned street or highway and to sell and lease it.

No Longer Set Seeds.
Sweet potatoes are an example of the class of plants that have been propagated vegetatively for so many generations that they rarely set seeds. The common potato is rapidly passing into the same class, while the banana is said to set no seeds, no matter how favorable conditions are.

Polishing Steel.
A finely polished lusterless surface can be produced on steel by rubbing, after tempering, on a smooth iron surface with some ground oilstone till it is perfectly smooth, after which it should be laid on a sheet of paper and rubbed backward and forward until it acquires a fine dead finish.

Quality That Counts for Much.
Try to be agreeable. It not only well pays one to act this part, but it assuredly makes happier those with whom we come in contact. Life at best is none too down-strewn. Then why magnify its unpleasant realities by giving way to disagreeable or selfish whims?

Hardy Tree is the Palm.
While commercial dates are successful in very restricted areas, the palm is very "tough" and resourceful. It will actually thrive in sand, in clay, adobe, peat, swamp mud, alkaline or salty soils and generally over a wider range of conditions than almost any other plant.

AMERICAN FIGHTERS.

The more or less cynical doubt may be inclined to contend that there is little more than mere purposeful official summery in President Poincaré's message congratulating our government on the "grand military quality" of General Pershing's "magnificent troops" and that American newspapers "play up" with absurd exaggerations the part enacted by our soldiers in General Foch's successful offensive. There may, indeed, be some slight basis for both assertions in view of the fact that all army heads as well as shrewd civilian observers favor optimistic announcements as a means of preserving the proper morale in the army and in the people as well. But, after making all such allowance, the conclusion is unavoidable that our fighting force in France, now a relatively small army that in past times would have been described as a great army, is making a record so splendid that there is every reason for our thrills of pride.

The achievements recorded in the vividly glowing accounts we receive are too specific to permit of any other view. The stories of American prowess and heroism coming day after day, are almost countless, even a doughty chaplain now and then standing forth to challenge his country's admiration in the cable's panoramic unfolding of the continuing series of great events. What is the more gratifying is that the young Americans who have placed and are placing their names on the nation's honor roll represent every section of the country, North, South, East and West. Practically every State and section are already thrilled with pride in the known high devotion of their battling sons. The fighting youth of America, directed by our mature manhood, are winning fame and making history.

EDUCATION AND SELF-RE-TRAINING.

A negro educator is quoted as saying to an assembly of educated members of his race: "By right living, obeying the laws and showing due deference to every man, you will demonstrate to the world what education makes out of negroes who obtain it. And in this way you will show the white man more vividly than in any other way the need of education and gain his co-operation even more widely than at present." Though the majority of negroes are and are likely to remain farmers and manual laborers, it is obvious that they need many well educated teachers, preachers and other professional men of their own race. The need of educated black men in various lines is recognized even in the South, where, as elsewhere, it is understood that by means of the education of any class of people the cause of law and order is advanced.

More book learning makes no man better at heart, but increased intelligence tends to make him a better citizen, for he learns that it is wiser to be inoffensive, honest and responsible in his relations with other men. The illiterate also may learn this by experience, but education causes men to see their own best interests more clearly and thus promotes what we call civilization. Such have been the results of education among the whites and there should be similar results from the progress of education among the blacks. The savage has risen into civilization through the subjection of his grosser impulses, and self-restraint, the great lesson of life even among the civilized, may be achieved outwardly when increased intelligence dictates it as wise, even when there is little or no fundamental moral reform. Education without moral reform is not genuine, but more increased intelligence tends to make men wiser and thus better citizens.

SAVAGES VS. "SAVAGERY."

The German newspapers pretend to be righteously indignant because American soldiers are using an adapted shotgun, the Cologne Gazette even predicting that the savages from America will also employ tomahawks and scalping knives. Such an outcry from the modern Huns who introduced poison gas, ravished innocent women, tortured old men, slaughtered little children, torpedoed passenger ships, bombed hospitals, made Red Cross workers the targets of their sharpshooters, and have committed every conceivable crime even of the most bestial character, suggests the howls of the devil himself in case some one in a position to take a whip to him should appear upon the scenes of his crimes.

The adapted shotgun employed by the Americans is merely the shrapnel idea applied to the rifle and is just as legitimate. It was invented or suggested by William G. Eager, a mechanical engineer and sportsman of Valdosta, Ga. Like other sportsmen, he had long known the value of the ordinary shotgun, the scattering shot of which brings down a number of quail or reed birds while a single rifle ball bags but one bird or none at all. The idea thus given birth when worked out produced an effective hand-gun firing six shells, each containing nine buckshot which at 50 yards will spray an area 9 feet wide and 3 feet high, thus accomplishing at close range what shrapnel does on a larger scale at long range. No doubt the Americans have successfully employed this useful weapon in Foch's great offensive, dropping many Huns with it and putting many others on the run.

"What is your opinion of —?" "Let's go no further," interrupted Senator Sorghum. "I don't know of any topic about which you could ask that question without putting me on record covering things that I can't make up my mind about."—Washington Star.

"I have a poem here about the Kaiser." "Let me see it," said the editor, wearily. "That ought to make him feel bad, eh?" "It certainly would my friend," replied the editor with a groan. "If there were any way on earth in which we could force the Kaiser to read it."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Fred Stone, the stinging comedian of "Jack O' Lantern," and Eugene Wood, whose stories and essays are well and pleasantly known, met on Broadway recently. They stopped for a moment to exchange a few cheerful views, when a woman in a particularly noticeable wool conservation gown passed. Simultaneously, Wood turned to Stone; Stone turned to wood; then both turned to rubber.

Mrs. Bacon—"I heard you talking to yourself while you were taking your bath, John. That's a bad custom."

Mr. Bacon—"I wasn't talking to myself, I was talking to the soap. I slipped on it and fell."

Mrs. Kicker—"If you are going to another one of those banquets, I don't suppose you'll know the number of the house when you get back."

Mr. Kicker—"Oh, yes, I will; I unscrewed it from the door and am taking it with me."

He—"Do you know anything about money?"

She—"Yes, what do you want to know?"

He—"How much is a pound worth?"

She—"Four dollars and eighty-six cents."

He—"How much is a guinea worth?"

She—"A dollar and a half a day."

Many who often came to the Point in years past were surprised at the improvements made there and declared that Kingston Point now offers picnickers the best, most convenient and cheapest day's amusement on the river.

TILLSON.

Tillson, July 26.—A. S. Contant submits the following in favor of out door church services:

"Why should a church service in these hot days be held in a building made to keep out winter frosts? Would it not be more sensible and pleasant to come outdoors where people want to be anyway? The quakers think so, and plan to hold their evening service this Sunday upon the church lawn, if the hot weather continues. Thomas Kelly will preach at a very interesting service, and all will be pleased who come to hear him. Will you not come and worship with us in the cool of the evening? The evening service begins at 7:45, the morning service at 10:45."

The city clerk has received a letter signed, "Charles J.", son of Jacob Schneider, No. 82 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y. The letter is dated July 22, 2954 W. 26th street, Cleveland, Ohio.

Introducing himself as formerly of Kingston the writer asks the city clerk for his birth certificate. He doesn't say what for. The city clerk turned the letter over to the board of health. The registry of vital statistics in this city goes back to 1881. His father, whose address he gave is still residing there and the city clerk wonders why the writer of the letter doesn't ask his father for the date of his birth.

CURIOUS CASE IN CITY COURT

Book and Periodical Traveling Agents Appear in Prosecution to Obtain Restitution for Money Won in Crap Game by Cheating.

Going to trial in Judge Schrick's court at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the book and periodical agent known as Sam Cantor, who is being defended by Henry Klein, is putting up a fight against what he says is an attempt to recover moneys fairly lost by the complainant, Joseph Terrill.

This is one of the most remarkable cases that have come up in police court. There are rooming at 563 Broadway several book and periodical agents. Among them these two men.

According to testimony on both sides the complainant and defendant were playing crap in the room of the complainant.

He testifies that he lost every throw and that the aggregate of his losses was $65.

Cantor admitted his winnings, saying that all there was to it was "luck."

"But I won fairly," he testified. "And these fellows in order to get back their money locked the door on me and tried to take it away from me. I won only $15 from this man."

Such was Cantor's statement after he had laid in the cell all night.

There were some phases in the case that took hold of the judge's feelings. The boy Terrill, who had lost the money, showed the court a letter from home indicating his good parentage and training. On the other hand there were some appearances against Cantor. He was quoted as boasting of his clean-ups in Hudson and other towns which if true, put him in an unfavorable light to say the least.

However, both sides were insistent, and Cantor demanding a jury trial was granted it. He paid the fine on the charge of disorderly conduct in screaming and shouting in the night. The charge which was set down for trial this afternoon is comprised in the following paragraph in the penal law:

"Section 988.—Cheating at gambling.—A person who by any fraud or false pretense whatsoever, while playing at any game, or while having a share in any game played for, or while betting on the sides or hands of such a game, wins or acquires to himself, or to any other, a sum of money or other valuable thing, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

That the gaming laws are paradoxical in the ration of a penalty for cheating at gambling and a law against gambling is obvious.

Another section of the law on which complaint is as well as defendant can be read is 989, which provides that both winners and losers of money in excess of $25 in any game of chance may be punished by a fine of five times the value of the amount lost.

Terrill charges that he lost $65. Under section 990 if that were proven both Terrill and Cantor, each of them, could be made to pay $325. The superintendent of poor would have to sue in civil action.

Then there is another section under which both parties can be prosecuted. That section 991, entitled "Illegal wagers, bets and stakes."

In the present case the police cannot act as there is no evidence that would permit them to make a charge of gambling.

DEWITT TALKS TO HIS DEMOCRATS

State Committeeman William C. DeWitt, also acting postmaster of this city, held the floor the greater portion of the three-quarters of an hour while about 20 members of the Democratic County Central Committee were in session at the rooms of the Jeffersonian League, Fair street, Friday afternoon. He made the addresses, introduced all the resolutions and suggested the candidates for recommendation for nomination, excepting one, George J. Sharkey, of O'Neill street, for state senator, was the exception. Francis P. Boyle, the well known conductor on the Colonial Division of the trolley lines, a former supervisor, named Mr. Sharkey and former Alderman William B. Martin named John T. Loughran of New York and Kingston, for recommendation. Mr. Martin said he had "talked to" Mr. Loughran and "thought" he would accept. Mr. Boyle then withdrew the name of Mr. Sharkey. Mr. DeWitt hinted that at a previous conference Sharkey's name had been brought up and later he had consented to have his name presented and was willing to be a candidate. After this statement had been made Mr. Martin withdrew the name of Mr. Loughran, stating he was not absolutely certain his candidate would run. Mr. Boyle then renewed his motion that Mr. Sharkey be made the candidate and the motion was carried. The other recommendations made were stated in The Freeman last evening. Just before adjournment the committee recommended as the choice of Ulster county for congress, John K. Evans of Sullivan county. He being a former assemblyman.

Postmaster DeWitt in a review of the doings at the Democratic Saratoga convention told how Brigadier General William D. Brinnier was the spokesman on the floor for the Ulster county delegation and voted the delegates for the recommendation of Alfred E. Smith for governor. He likewise stated that efforts by leaders of the party made to get Roscoe Irwin's consent to run for attorney general or state controller were of no avail as Mr. Irwin said he preferred to remain as internal revenue collector. Most of those present were from this city.

THE LATE DR. RAPP.

Benedictine Sanitarium Staff Adopts Appropriate Resolutions.

At a meeting of the directors and surgical and medical staff of the Benedictine Sanitarium a resolution in connection with the death of Dr. John W. Rapp was passed and adopted as follows:

Whereas, intrusive death, unceasingly conspiring against life's worthy ambitions, prostrating with inexorable decisiveness men's highest purposes, even when directed to the amelioration of the race, and orphaning humanity of their rich treasures of knowledge and experience, has entered into a happy home, despoiled it of its head, and

Whereas, Dr. John W. Rapp has been victimized by the imperious and relentless summons, that compels severance of family, professional and social ties that have been interwoven intimately and appreciatively into the lives of many others.

Be It Resolved, that the directors and the surgical and medical staff of the Benedictine Sanitarium, with which Dr. Rapp was associated, place on record their recognition of Dr. Rapp's manly and professional gifts, and their appreciation of his skill, which was unstintingly devoted to the relief and repair of weakened humanity.

And Be It Resolved, that this appreciation of a most upright and efficient surgeon be spread upon the records of the institution, and that a copy of the resolution be presented to the members of his family.

MORAN STUDENT APPOINTED.

To High Grade Position at the National Capital.

To the growing list of graduates of Moran Business School now holding excellent positions at Washington, D. C., will be added the name of Miss Mathilde Ummerie, of No. 95 Pine Grove avenue, this city, who will begin her new duties on Thursday, August first. Early this week, Miss Ummerie received notice that she had passed with high marks the civil service examination for stenographic clerk, in preparation for which she pursued the special civil service course at the Moran Business School, Fair and Main streets. She completed the stenographic course in a remarkably short time and passed the examination with no previous office experience to her credit. It goes without saying that she will give a very creditable account of herself in the service of Uncle Sam. All who know her hope confidently that she may be favored with an abundance of success in her new field.

Brown Gets 30 Days.

The case of Lewis Wilson against Charles Brown, both of 119 North Front street, was brought before City Judge Schrick Friday evening at the city court. Charles Brown, colored, was charged with petit larceny committed at 119 North Front street, when on July 21 he stole $7.15 from Wilson's socks and pants while Wilson supposedly was sleeping. But Wilson claims he awoke and caught him in the act. Several witnesses were called and testified, all being colored. Judge Wm. D. Brinnier, Jr., was the prosecuting attorney and Judge O'Reilly appeared as defender. After a short deliberation the jury returned a verdict of guilty and Brown was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

PEACHES

Before preparing fruit make sirup (three pounds nine ounces sugar to one gallon of water or five pounds, eight ounces sugar to one gallon of water), allowing about one cupful of water for each quart jar. Put in one cracked peach pit for every quart of sirup. Boil sirup for five minutes. Strained honey or other sirups can be used in place of a part of the sirup usually required.

Sort the fruits, using firm, sound, uniform peaches for canning and putting aside the soft broken ones for jam. Peeling may be done by immersing in boiling water about one minute or until skins slip easily. Remove, plunge for a minute into cold water, and slip off the skins. Cut into halves and pack at once in previously boiled jars, placing the halves in overlapping layers, the concave surface of each half being downward and the blossom end facing the glass. Fill each jar with hot sirup and paddle carefully to remove air bubbles. Partially seal jars. Boil (process) quart jars in a water bath for 20 minutes and half gallons 35 minutes. When thoroughly cold test jars for leaks. Store in a cool, dark, dry place.

Firm, perfect peaches may be floated in boiling water for about 20 seconds after being peeled. They are then cut in halves, seeds removed, and packed as indicated above. Peaches floated in this manner are made more flexible and pack to better advantage. They also become mellow, absorb more sirup and are finer in flavor.—United States Department of Agriculture.

Testing Pleurisy With Coins.
A novel method of diagnosing pleurisy is described by P. Lereboullet in the Paris Medical Journal. The examiner applies his ear to the patient's chest, closing his other ear, while coins are clinked at the patient's back. The sound of the coins coming through a healthy, normally aerated lung seems distant and dull, while through an affected lung, through solid or homogeneous tissue a clear, silvery metallic ring is heard.

Judge Clearwater Scores Selfish Appeals For Support on Patriotic Reasons—Favors State Using Niagara Power.

Judge Clearwater has returned from Niagara Falls, where he presided at the summer meeting of the commissioners of the State Reservation, of which commission he is president. Among the important matters determined by the commission was the denial of the application of the Empire Power Company for permission to enlarge the intake of the waters of the Niagara river crossing the state reservation grounds at the falls, for the purpose of enabling that company to erect a large power plant to develop electric energy by the fall of the water of the river. The decision of the commission was formulated by Judge Clearwater, and was unanimous.

The application of the company, which was presented to the commission at its April meeting, stated that it was the intention of the company, if it could obtain the consent of the State Reservation Commission, to erect a new and large power plant which would develop many thousands of horse power of electricity. The judge, expressing the opinion of the commission, stated that under the international treaty with the Dominion of Canada, a further diversion of 4,500 cubic feet of water per second at the falls was permissible; that it had been demonstrated that the generation of electricity by falling water was immensely profitable, so much so that the two German chemical companies at the falls out of a single year's earnings had paid dividends to their stockholders of different classes ranging from fifty per cent to one thousand per cent, and had erected two plants, one in New Jersey and one in West Virginia, each costing $500,000; that the commission was unanimously of the opinion that the Niagara being an international boundary, any further diversion of its waters should be under the auspices of the state of New York which could erect a mammoth plant upon the reservation grounds so designed and constructed as not in any manner to mar the scenic beauty of the falls, could generate electricity at a comparatively insignificant cost, and sell the current to municipalities and to manufacturers at a far less price than any corporation could sell it.

He said that the commission from time to time had been besieged with similar applications; that it had given to the pending one the most careful and thorough consideration, had received the advice of the most competent hydraulic engineers, and had decided as its definite policy for the future that no permit of any character for the diversion of the waters of the river over the lands of the reservation would be granted to any private corporation. He said that the leading feature of all applications was that they were insistently urged upon the alleged ground that the granting of them would aid in winning the war; that it was to him, as a resident of the state, a matter of regret that the American public had so readily been gulled by self-seeking men and women ranging from people who had strawberries to be picked to millionaires who sought to divert the waters of Niagara Falls under the guise that the free furnishing of privileges, labor and material would aid in winning the war. "Of course," said the judge, "everybody wants to win the war, but the people whose real primary object in avowing an intention to win the war is easily and quickly to make money for themselves are in numbers like the locusts of Biblical Egypt."

"They sure will."

Large Responses to the Call of the Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association Prove Conclusively There Is No Other Way for the Highest Efficiency in Conserving Foods.

When the Food Administrator of Ulster addressing the Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association, told them that all of the retail dealers of Ulster County would come together at least once a month, it would very materially aid the Government in the conservation of foods he made it plain to everyone that he had

STRUCK THE KEYNOTE OF THE ASSOCIATION.

The Food Administrator standing in front of the body of men, over 80 at that time, who are members of the Association, pointed out how much easier it is to obtain a complete understanding with the men and women who are feeding the public by facing them and talking directly to them. He said that that had been well pleased at the thorough and intelligent way the association had co-operated with him; and he said that the Kingston Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association

IS THE STRONG ARM OF THE GOVERNMENT

Application for membership have already been received by a number of grocers and butchers in the towns outside of Kingston. The membership is rapidly rising and it is believed that the report of the secretary at the next meeting will show a gain of at least twenty dealers.

THE PATRIOTIC DUTY OF EVERY FOOD SELLER

is to co-operate with the Food Administrator NOW. The only complete co-operation is by organization. The city dealers having already a large and growing organization stepped into line directly. No matter what other dealers do the Association acts LOYALLY AND PATRIOTICALLY.

If you, Mr. Retailer, fail to comprehend the significance of this organization of FOOD PURVEYORS you have no one to blame for it but yourself.

If you, Mr. Retailer, are so egotistical that you think you can pull through alone and on your own efforts, pause a moment and consider one important matter. You have the same sources of foods open to you that association members have, but where you would fail in your duty and perhaps get in badly in when the pinch of cold weather comes on. When the harvest are gathered, and only then will any of us be informed of food conditions.

Mr. Retailer, of Saugerties, Highland, Milton, Ashkan and other Ulster towns, send in your kindly recognition of this association to C. E. Bennett, secretary. If you want a concise and intelligent statement of the organization's purpose, what it means, etc., you will be accommodated.

Do Your Duty as Patriots for No One Guarantee Food Conditions During the Coming Cold Weather and the Food Administrator's Duties Will Be Made Easier If All of Ulster's Retailers Can Come Together and Act Together as One Body.

KINGSTON BAND GAINING FAME

Not only among the music lovers of Kingston is the Colonial City Band being appreciated at its full value this summer. Whether heard in the band concerts at Kingston Point or Forsyth Park, or in the various parades, people visiting Kingston comment in most complimentary fashion upon the excellence of the music furnished by the band under Conductor Muller's baton.

The plan originated with Miss Loomis of Athens, who found that such flowers as she could secure near her home, to be sold on the down day boat, and the return up boat from Kingston Point, were not enough to meet the demand. So beautiful were the flowers contributed for this cause that customers crowded about the stands to purchase them. Miss Loomis then asked for more flowers from friends along the river, and the Women's Branch of the Home Defense unit took up the cause here at Kingston. The matter was brought to the attention of the Ulster Garden Club, whose members together with friends from the Dr. C. O. Sahler Sanitarium have been providing cut flowers from their gardens on Wednesdays and Saturdays. The young ladies of the Ambulance Corps of the Home Defense collect the flowers and carry them to the boat, where Miss Loomis or some of her assistants are ready to receive them. Sometimes they continue down the river, making sale of the flowers contributed here but more often they return on the up boat, finding just as many flower lovers wanting the beautiful posies, going to the mountains as there are among those returning to their homes. In a very short time after starting this unique enterprise the sum realized was doubled. The proceeds from the sales are given in the name of the men in service from the Hudson River Day Line, to the general fund of the Red Cross, and already the gifts have been fully appreciated.

SOCIETY NOTES.

A large number of friends of Leo Smith tendered him a farewell reception at his home on Foxhall avenue Wednesday evening. A very pleasant evening was spent and refreshments were served. His friends presented him with a handsome wrist watch, safety razor and other useful articles. Mr. Smith left with the men on Thursday morning for Camp Dix. He is a grandson of the late Hugh Heaney, a veteran of the Civil War, and has a large number of friends and acquaintances in the city who wish him the best of luck as a soldier for Uncle Sam.

Schane-Cudney.
Miss Goldie Cudney and William Schane, both of West Park, were quietly married at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Port Ewen Sunday afternoon, July 21, 1918, by the Rev. Eugene A. Hookfoot. The bride was handsomely gowned in white georgette crepe. Miss Mary Fleming of Washington Heights, N. Y. C., who acted as bridesmaid, was gowned in champagne colored silk. The best man was Francis Quinn of New York city. After the ceremony they motored to Poughkeepsie where they had supper at the Windsor, after which they returned to West Park as the groom expected to entrain for Camp Dix in a few days. All wish them the best of luck, and a safe return of the groom.

Farewell Party.
A farewell party was given to Walter Hungerford at the home of his wife and sister at the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Barnard, 157 Pine street. Mr. Hungerford enlisted at Poughkeepsie July 20 and went with the drafted boys Thursday morning. Those present were Mrs. H. Hungerford, Mrs. H. Lewis Short, John Emmett, Lewis Hungerford. Luncheon was served at 12:30. All departed at an early hour wishing Mr. Hungerford Godspeed, good health and a safe return.

D. of L. Lawn Social.

The lawn social and bazar held Thursday evening at the home of the Misses Madden at 282 Albany avenue was a very successful affair, both socially and financially. Japanese lanterns shed their soft light over the scene where the daughters of Isabella and their friends sat at tables decorated with flowers enjoying the delicious ice cream and cake or patronizing the various booths which were draped with American flags and added a patriotic and martial touch appropriate to the spirit of the order. The lemonade booth presided over by Mrs. John Reynolds and Miss Nellie Hannon and the cake and cream booths by Miss Catherine Humphrey and Miss Laura Albrecht drew their share of patronage while at the larger booth, in charge of Mrs. P. H. Cullen, were fancy and useful articles. The affair, which was successfully planned by Miss Jane Madden and a committee, was for the benefit of charity, and netted the sum of $70. Great credit is due the members of the Daughters of Isabella who were present and assisted in making the affair so perfect.

Road of Frights.

In the central part of China there is a very strange road, which leads to the famous Ming tombs. On each side of the avenue are huge figures of elephants, camels and giraffes, lions, etc. Each animal is carved out of a solid piece of stone. They are probably more than 500 years old.

PARADE FRENZY HAS SUBSIDED

Attempt to Start Another One Last Night Fizzled Out as People Came to Their Senses and Listened to Reason.

Out-blown from marching and shouting most of the preceding night and all day Friday, the attempt to keep the "celebration" going by parading Friday night fizzled out. The report obtained currency that there was to be a night parade. Long after 8 o'clock a band of five equestrians rode up Broadway from downtown. They were dressed in fantastic attire. Uptown they turned to ride back, having procured the services of the Barnard drum and pipe corps. Along Broadway they picked up not more than fifty girls and boys. There were very few shop girls in the bunch. Most of them were the younger girls. The five mounted men led the drum corps with the comparatively few who fell in behind until the column passed the city hall. The drum corps swung around and headed north followed by the girls and boys behind. The mounted men kept straight on down town.

It was plain that they had expected to gather a large following as they descended Broadway. And had failed. The drum corps and its lively shouting body of young people behind them, counter marching at the city hall continued above the West Shore when they lost most of the following. On re-passing the post office they encountered a larger column of mostly boys. They were few adults in the two columns. The column of boys were last seen marching down Prince street.

This was the extent of last night's parade. It is an accepted fact that the demonstration of Friday was started and engineered by parties outside of the factory hands.

Groups of children by the hundreds lined Broadway from the Strand to Main street. They appeared mostly after 11 o'clock and three out of four carried flags. Every flag was a new one, just from the dealers. Children who would never have purchased the flags carried them. They were placed in groups. Here and there a small child was placed on a prominent elevation and that child swung a large flag.

It is not doubted that an agency desiring not to be known started the demonstration and supplied the flags. The cause of it was an erroneous report, though the parades—those were a half dozen—had the effect of stirring up the war spirit.

Peculiar Cause of Cellulacy.
Cellulacy is almost unknown among the Morvians, and when it does occur it is nearly always the result of a vow, especially in places where Russian influence is strong. Sometimes a girl is not married in consequence of a vow to a deity—if half, for instance, has ruined the crops or some misfortune has befallen the family. Such young women are termed the "wife of the hail king."

A newborn baby's pulse should beat from 130 to 140 times per minute; a year-old child's 115 to 130; a fourteen-year-old's 80 to 90; an adult's from 70 to 75, and an aged person's from 60 to 75.—Woman's World.

MUFFLER CARE IS IMPORTANT ITEM

Cleveland Auto School Head Gives Its Purpose, Construction and Troubles.

CLOGGING IS DUE TO SOOT

May Be Caused by Too Rich a Mixture From Carburetor, Indicated by Black Smoke From Exhaust—Best to Let It Alone.

What is the purpose of the muffler, what care does it require and to what troubles it is subject are questions frequently asked of Clyde H. Pratt, president of the Cleveland Automobile school.

The purpose of the muffler, he says, is to diminish the noise of the exhaust. The gas escapes from the exhaust valve at high pressure and the resulting noise is disagreeable unless it is muffled.

It is necessary to reduce the pressure from each explosion and to allow the gas to escape so that a great deal of its force is dissipated and its disjunct nature completely changed. The gas then passes out quietly with only a slight pulsation or throbbing.

The methods by which this is brought about are simple. A gas passing along an ordinary pipe would be slowed down and spread out. But this arrangement would require too long a pipe. So baffles or plates are used to make the gas turn corners and force its way through small holes in the plates.

In some mufflers the gas enters an expansion chamber. All this time it is losing heat and so contracting and thus it slows down more and more. The final effect is, as stated, to have the gas issue from the muffler in a steady, quiet manner.

Let Muffler Alone.
The care of the muffler is to leave it alone until it becomes clogged. It does its work without attention and requires nothing from the driver. The only time we think of it is when we wish to find out if the engine is missing explosions. Then we cut out the muffler and listen to the sound of the exhaust.

Do this cautiously on the road, as there are laws against it in many localities. If the sound of the exhaust is not sufficiently loud it may be increased by retarding the spark and opening the throttle part way. The sound of each cylinder will then be brought out distinctly and any weakness will be noticed immediately.

About the only trouble to which the muffler is subject is that it becomes clogged with soot. This may be caused by too rich a mixture from the carburetor, indicated by black smoke from the exhaust, or it may be caused by the oil working up on top of the pistons, giving the bluish white smoke characteristic of too much lubricant.

Carbon Clogs Muffler.
Another cause is where the carbon has been scraped loose from the cylinders, but allowed to fall on the piston. This is carried into the muffler, and so helps to clog. In order to clean it, it must be taken apart and all the carbon deposits removed. If the small holes are closed with soot they must be reamed out with a three-cornered file or bearing scraper. The parts are then reassembled carefully and replaced on the car.

It is easy to tell if the muffler is clogged where there is a cutoff. Run the machine up a fairly steep hill. If the car speeds up with the cutoff open it shows that the muffler is clogged.

A well designed silencer should not cut down the power of the engine more than 3 per cent. This difference will hardly be noticeable on an ordinary hill. So the fact that the car slows down would indicate back pressure due to clogging.

A small metal paddle clamped to either rear wheel of the automobile which has become stuck in the mud will help the car out in less time than it takes to adjust tire chains.

The writer recently had the misfortune to have the lift jack removed from his car during a night and unaware of it drove to the country the following day only to have a blow-out occur on the open road. The wheel was raised first by using it upon a flat rock suitably placed. With the wheel in this position it was a question merely of looking around the roadside for another rock or log which could be placed under the raised axle. When found, the flat jack was forced out by means of a wedge and the wheel thus remained at the ground ready for the mounting of the new tire. Another method which could be used consists in having one man use a fence rail to pry up the front end. This could be done after the lugs have been removed so that a time will be lost in slipping on the tire and rim.

TEST BRAKES ON ARMY CARS

Government Makes Thorough Examination of Trucks Before Being Sent to Firing Line.

Uncle Sam is not overlooking the importance of efficiency from every angle in the motor transport and ambulance division of the army. These machines must stand a wear and tear probably never given to motor-driven vehicles since their birth as an established necessity in every day and international life.

One of the most important factors entering into the final analysis of a motortruck ambulance which will eventually see service "somewhere in France" is, in the estimation of motor war officers, the efficiency of the brakes. The motors, especially the trucks, must travel hundreds of miles back and forth from the front amid the most difficult surroundings. It has been stated on authority that for 300 miles up and down the fighting front there is an almost continual stream of trucks, ambulances, counters and motorcycles running in such close proximity that unless the brakes are in perfect running order hundreds of casualties would result almost daily.

Brakes form only a background for their more important sister, upon which the real burden rests—the brake lining itself. Thousands of miles of brake lining are being used daily by the government, and owing to this fact Uncle Sam has ordered tests to be made of the various makes. These tests are now going on in Washington.

Lining made under the thermodynaulic-compressed process is said to be regarded as best adapted to military use in France on account of its moisture and dust-resisting qualities.

SAFETY DEVICE FOR AUTOS

Invention of George Man Relates Particularly to Machines Employing Cranks.

The Scientific American, in illustrating and describing a safety crank catch for automobiles invented by M. S. Lanier of Rome Ga., says:

The invention relates particularly to attachments for automobiles employing cranks at the forward end of the power shaft. The object is to provide a catch which will engage the crank in case of back thrust to obviate injury. A further object is to provide a catch which may be readily positioned at both sides of the starting crank and mounted in connection with the vehicle frame. The catch has a laterally yielding movement to permit the passage of the starting crank. The movement is such that the catch is immediately brought back to operative position by a controlling spring.

"WINNING THE WAR" EVEN FLOWERS SELF-SEEKERS' CRY DO THEIR BIT

Judge Clearwater has returned from Niagara Falls, where he presided at the summer meeting of the commissioners of the State Reservation, of which commission he is president. Among the important matters determined by the commission was the denial of the application of the Empire Power Company for permission to enlarge the intake of the waters of the Niagara river crossing the state reservation grounds at the falls, for the purpose of enabling that company to erect a large power plant to develop electric energy by the fall of the water of the river. The decision of the commission was formulated by Judge Clearwater, and was unanimous.

The application of the company, which was presented to the commission at its April meeting, stated that it was the intention of the company if it could obtain the consent of the State Reservation Commission, to erect a new and large power plant which would develop many thousand horse power of electricity. The judge, expressing the opinion of the commission, stated that under the international treaty with the Dominion of Canada, a further diversion of 4,500 cubic feet of water per second at the falls was permissible; that it had been demonstrated that the generation of electricity by falling water was immensely profitable, so much so that the two German chemical companies at the falls, out of a single year's earnings had paid dividends to their stockholders of different classes ranging from fifty per cent to one thousand per cent, and had erected two plants, one in New Jersey and one in West Virginia, each costing $500,000; that the commission was unanimously of the opinion that the Niagara being an international boundary, any further diversion of its waters should be under the auspices of the state of New York which could erect a mammoth plant upon the reservation grounds so designed and constructed as not in any manner to mar the scenic beauty of the falls, could generate electricity at a comparatively insignificant cost, and sell the current to municipalities and to manufacturers at a far less price than any corporation could sell it.

He said that the commission from time to time had been besieged with similar applications; that it had given to the pending one the most careful and thorough consideration, had received the advice of the most competent hydraulic engineers, and had decided as its definite policy for the future that no permit of any character for the diversion of the waters of the river over the lands of the reservation should be granted to any private corporation. He said that the leading feature of all applications was that they were insistently urged upon the alleged ground that the granting of them would aid in winning the war; that it was to him astounding that the American public had so readily been gulled by self-seeking men and women ranting from people who had strawberries to be picked to millionaires who sought to divert the waters of Niagara Falls under the guise that the free furnishing of privileges, labor and material would assist in winning the war. "Of course," said the judge, "everybody wants to win the war, but the people whose real primary object in avowing an intention to win the war is easily and quickly to make money for themselves are in numbers like the locusts of Biblical Egypt."

Never have Emerson's words, "The beautiful is often more useful than the useful," been truer than in the instance of the flower sales for the benefit of the Red Cross, being carried on by young ladies on the day boats this summer.

The plan originated with Miss Loomis of Athens, who found that such flowers as she could secure near her home, to be sold on the day boat from Kingston Point, were not enough to meet the demand. So beautiful were the flowers contributed for this cause that customers crowded about the stands to purchase them. Miss Loomis then asked for more flowers from friends along the river, and the Women's Branch of the Home Defense undertook to help out here at Kingston.

The matter was brought to the attention of the Ulster Garden Club, whose members together with friends from the Dr. C. O. Sahler Sanatorium have been providing cut flowers from their gardens on Wednesdays and Saturdays. The young ladies of the Ambulance Corps of the Home Defense collect the flowers and carry them to the boat, where Miss Loomis or some of her assistants are ready to receive them. Sometimes they continue down the river, making sale of the flowers contributed here, but more often they return on the up boat, finding just as many flower lovers wanting the beautiful posies, going to the mountains as there are among those returning to their homes. In a very short time after starting this unique enterprise, the sum realized was doubled. The proceeds from the sales are given in the name of the men in service from the Hudson River Day Line, to the general fund of the Red Cross, and already the gifts have been fully appreciated.

There will be a lawn party held this evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Reformed Church on the court house lawn beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The members of the Democratic State Committee of the third Judicial District will meet in the Albany county headquarters, North Pearl street, Albany, Monday, July 29, at 12:30 o'clock, to designate a candidate for the Supreme Court.

The German Spirit. "Any restitution that Germany offers to the allies will be offered, you may be sure, in the spirit of Griggs."

The speaker was Edward Hungerford, the advertising expert. "Griggs and Migs," he went on, "were kidnapped by bandits and shut up in a cave."

"They'll take every cent we've got on us," moaned Migs. "Every blessed cent."

"They will, eh?" said Griggs, thoughtfully. "They sure will."

"Griggs peeled a ten-spot from his roll."

"Here, Migs," he said, "here is that ten dollars I've been owing you for so long."

Large Responses to the Call of the Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association Prove Conclusively There Is No Other Way for the Highest Efficiency in Conserving Foods.

When the Food Administrator of Ulster addressing the Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association told them that if all of the retail dealers of Ulster County would come together at least once a month it would very materially aid the Government in the conservation of foods he made it plain to everyone that he had

STUCK THE KEYNOTE OF THE ASSOCIATION.

The Food Administrator standing in front of the body of men, over 80 at that time, who are members of the Association, pointed out how much easier it is to obtain a complete understanding with the men and women who are feeding the public by facing them and talking directly to them. He said that that had been well cooperated with him; and he said that the Kingston Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association

IS THE STRONG ARM OF THE GOVERNMENT

Application for membership have already been received by a number of grocers and butchers in the towns outside of Kingston. The membership is rapidly rising and it is believed that the report of the secretary at the next meeting will show a gain of at least twenty dealers.

THE PATRIOTIC DUTY OF EVERY FOOD SELLER

is to co-operate with the Food Administrator NOW. The only complete co-operation is by organization. The city dealers having already a large and growing organization stepped into line directly. No matter what other dealers do the Association acts LOYALLY AND PATRIOTICALLY.

If you, Mr. Retailer, fail to comprehend the significance of this organization of FOOD PURVEYORS you have no one to blame for it but yourself.

If you, Mr. Retailer, are so egotistical that you think you can pull through alone and on your own efforts, pause a moment and consider one important matter. You have the same sources of foods open to you that association members have, but where you would fall in your duty and perhaps get in badly in when the pinch of cold weather comes on. When the harvest are gathered, and only then will any of us be informed of food conditions.

Mr. Retailer, of Saugerties, Highland, Milton, Ashokan and other Ulster towns, send in your kindly recognition of this association to C. T. Bennett, Secretary. If you want a concise and intelligent statement of the organization's purpose, what it means, etc., you will be accommodated.

Do Your Duty as Patriots for No One Guarantee Food Conditions During the Coming Cold Weather and the Food Administrator's Duties Will Be Made Easier If All of Ulster's Retailers Can Come Together and Act Together as One Body.

PARADE FRENZY HAS SUBSIDED

Attempt to Start Another One Last Night Fizzled Out as People Came to Their Senses and Listened to Reason.

Out-blown from marching and shouting most of the preceding night and all day Friday, the attempt to keep the "celebration" going by parading Friday night fizzled out. The report obtained currency that there was to be a night parade. Long after 8 o'clock a band of five equestrians rode up Broadway from downtown. They were dressed in fantastic attire. Up they turned to ride back, having procured the services of the Barmann drum and fife corps. Along Broadway they picked up not more than fifty girls and boys. There were very few shop girls in the bunch. Most of them were the younger girls. The five mounted men led the drum corps with the comparatively few who fell in behind until the column passed the city hall. Then the drum corps swung around and headed north followed by the girls and boys behind. The mounted men kept straight on down town.

It was plain that they had expected to gather a large following as they descended Broadway. And had failed. The drum corps and its lively shouting body of young people behind them, counter marching at the city hall continued above the West Shore when they lost most of the following. On re-passing the post office they encountered a larger column of mostly boys. They were few adults in the two columns. The column of boys were last seen marching down Prince street.

This was the extent of last night's parade. It is an accepted fact that the demonstration of Friday was started and engineered by parties outside of the factory hands.

Groups of children by the hundreds lined Broadway from the Strand to Main street. They appeared mostly after 11 o'clock and were out of four carried flags. Every flag was new one, just from the dealer. Children who would never have purchased the flags carried them. They were placed in groups. Here and there a small child was placed on a prominent elevation and that child swung a large flag.

It is not doubted that an agency desiring not to be known started the demonstration and supplied the flags. The cause of it was an erroneous report, though the parades—those were a half dozen—had the effect of stirring up the war spirit.

Peculiar Cause of Celibacy.
Celibacy is almost unknown among the Moravians, and when it does occur it is nearly always the result of a vow, especially in places where Russian influence is strong. Sometimes a girl is not married in consequence of a vow to a deity—if hail, for instance, has ruined the crops or some misfortune has befallen the family. Such young women are termed the "wife of the hail king."

PLAN TO IMPROVE A JACK.
Writer Explains How Wheel Was Raised by Use of Rocks and New Tire Mounted.

The writer recently had the misfortune to have the left jack removed from his car during a night and unaware of it drove to the country the following day only to have a blow-out occur on the opened. The wheel was raised first by using it upon a flat rock suitably placed. With the wheel in this position was a question merely of looking round the roadside for another rock or log which could be placed under the raised axle. When found, the flatjack was forced out by means of a ledge and the wheel thus remained in the ground ready for the mounting of the new tire. Another method could be used consists in having one man use a fence rail to pry up the front end. This could be done after the lugs have been removed so that a time will be lost in slipping on the new tire and it takes to adjust tire chains.

Get Car Out of Mud.

Knocked German Captor Out With a Stone and Escaped.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
With the American Army at the Alsne, July 26.—(Night)—A militant American chaplain, who was captured by the Germans just south of Soissons, taught a good lesson to a German non-commissioned officer.
When the chaplain was taken the German "non-com" shouted at him in good English: "You dirty American, follow me; I don't want to see any American walk ahead of a German."
The chaplain followed until he saw a good sized stone on the road. He seized it and threw it at the German officer, knocking him down. Then he fled.
The German pursued the chaplain firing his pistol but the latter made good his escape, reaching the American lines.

MANY ATTRACTIONS AT NAPANOCH FARM MEET

Besides Neighborly Discussion of Problems and Methods Dr. Jordan Will Deliver Address—Big Tractor Demonstration.

There is nothing in the world that does any person more good than to have a day of relaxation from the regular hum drum course of work which must grow tiresome. It provides an opportunity to really forget your troubles and be sociable with your neighbors. Besides nothing will help you to meet your problems successfully and better than just to know how the other fellow does it. It has been said by one writer that "nothing broadens a man so much as to travel and associate with his fellow men." This is a very true statement and the country people are coming to realize it as well as the city people. That is why we encourage agricultural meetings, community meetings, farmer's institutes, picnics, etc. And that is the very reason why this mammoth agricultural meeting of the people of three counties has been provided for at Napanoch. It will give all the farmers and farmers' wives a chance to meet with both neighbors and strangers and talk over their problems. For one day the farmers will forget about their troubles with the pesky insects that destroy their crops; the fire blight that injures their orchards; the contagious abortion that infects their valuable dairy cows; the difficulty of securing farm help and other problems that try their patience and pocket books. Incidentally forgetting about the obstacles in your path and learning about your neighbor's problems which are no less than yours, you will learn how to apply your neighbor's methods if they prove to be more successful than your own.

You will see at this meeting many of the best tractors in operation. Some day you will want to buy one. Here you have a chance to choose from thirteen or fifteen of the best makes.

The address by Dr. W. H. Jordan, one of our really big agricultural men, will be of interest to every man and woman in the three counties. Every farmer in the three counties is interested in the growing of better crops. Farmers will have a chance to stop at good farms along the road and study the crops and methods. Also the examination of Mr. Young's crops at Napanoch will be a prominent feature of the day. This alone will be of inestimable value to every farmer.

The Woman's Home Economics Tent will be furnished with all the modern household and food conservation exhibits.

Farmers from Orange, Sullivan, and Ulster counties will have a splendid opportunity to study several different makes of tractors next Tuesday at the Farm Bureau summer meeting to be held at Napanoch. The New York State Food Commission co-operating with the Farm Bureau Association of Orange, Sullivan and Ulster counties has arranged to make this demonstration one of the big features of the day. Some of the tractor companies that will be represented in this demonstration are: Avery, Moline, International, Case, Chase, Maxium, Cleveland, (Caterpillar) and Fordson. Some of the companies will have two types or sizes present. This opportunity comes but once a year. Take advantage of it while you can. Remember that the tractor demonstration is but one of many good things you may see or hear on that day.

Didn't Get the Men.
Port Ewen, N. Y., July 25, 1918.—In our issue of July 23rd you stated that six volunteers from the Farm Bureau had come on my farm. The statement is incorrect, and I wish you to make correction in your paper by publishing this notice. The facts are as follows: On Friday, July 19th, I telephoned to the Farm Bureau for five volunteers to help me thresh rye on Tuesday, July 23. I was assured that they would be on the job. Now they did not come, but they did not notify me they were not coming, so I could look elsewhere for help. I finally secured enough of the Port Ewen boys ranging in age from six to seventy-five to help me out of the hole that the volunteers put me in. This was my first experience with city volunteer farm help and it will certainly be my last.

Dance This Evening.

The Light Society will have a pleasant social and dance this evening at the Immaculate Conception school hall, Delaware avenue. Fine music for dancing. Refreshments will be served.

MAVERICK CONCERT PROGRAM TOMORROW

"Musical chestnuts," according to the committee responsible for the selections, will be the program at the next Maverick Sunday-afternoon concert, to be given tomorrow at 4 o'clock in the rustic music hall near Woodstock. "Famous music, that everybody should know—and few people outside of musical circles really do," might be an equally apt way of putting it.

Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata, probably the most famous sonata of the world's most famous composer, will be the first number. The story of the composition of this masterpiece is as familiar as the composition itself. It belongs to that musical, romantic Germany of the last century, with which we are not, and never can be, at war. Its spirit is closer to modern America—and few people outside of musical circles really do," might be an equally apt way of putting it.

After several shorter pieces, including such well-loved "chestnuts" as Chopin's F sharp major nocturne and Rubinstein's Staccato Etude, Pierre Menotte and Mr. Cooper will render a Mendelssohn concerto, the opening number of which, allegro appassionato is world-famous for its emotional quality. Together with the melodious andante and finale that complete it, this concerto represents "chestnut" music at its best—music that is well known because it is the most beautiful and of the more popular classical compositions. At a later concert, Miss Elise Hasbrouck of Kingston will be the soloist. Miss Hasbrouck's charming voice, grown more sure with careful training, is winning increased appreciation.

MACHINE GUNNER NOW IN FRANCE

HERMAN DUBOIS.

Co. A, 309th Machine Gun Battalion, A. E. F., France. Drafted April 5, 1918. A recent letter received by his mother is as follows:

Somewhere in France.

Friday, June 28, 1918.

Dear Mother and All:—

I just finished writing a letter to Grace just now and told her that her brother was over to see me but forgot to tell her that he was training only about three miles from where I am. You can take my word for this that when I return I sure will have some tales to tell you about this country; only wish that I could tell you about it in these letters but it wouldn't be safe to do so because if some of the enemy's spies should get a hold of it, it may not only endanger my life but 100's of others also, so will just be patient and hold it until I get back. That will make a fine story to tell you all Christmas. Come to think of it, it may seem lots early but while I think of it I will tell you, if I should be ever here Christmas which I don't think I will be, why don't attempt to send me any present because of the poor facilities in that line and when I come back why I will have my hand out for all donations. Well how is every one on 199 Wall anyway; hope they all feel as good as I do and they will have no kick coming. How is grandma? Give her my best regards and tell her that the sweater she knitted me is sure giving me some comfort. Well I will drop a line in a couple of days. Your affectionate son,
HERMAN.

WHERE IT DIDN'T START.

Friday's Outbreak Was Thrust Upon the Fuller Employees.

Jesse C. Klein, manager for James S. Fuller, Inc., takes exception to a statement made in an article in The Freeman last evening regarding the outbreak of enthusiasm Friday over a false report that the Allies had captured the German Crown Prince, that "the affair seems to have started in the Fuller shirt factory." Manager Klein denies that "the affair" started at the Fuller factory. He stated to a Freeman representative that two or three times girls from other factories came to the Pine Grove avenue plant endeavoring to get his employees to parade and he ordered them away, but after a time about 25 girls marched there and finally prevailed on many of the Fuller operatives to quit work and join in the parade. They therefore did not start the affair and the manager endeavored to keep the girls at work until the story of a big victory by the Americans was officially confirmed. Insofar as the Fuller employees contributing towards providing comforts for the American soldiers at the front, they have done so generously whenever called on at the factory and will continue to do so individually but not as a body.

Mones Passed Examination.

Bernard B. Mones, a graduate of Spencer's Business School, has been notified by the authorities at Washington that he passed the Civil Service examination successfully on June 14. Mr. Mones secured a mark of 99 per cent in typewriting and very high percentages in the other subjects. He has been certified for appointment in the judge advocate general's office at an initial salary of $1,100 per annum with chances for promotion to $1,200 after three months' service. Mr. Mones left immediately for his new position, and his many friends in Spencer's Business School congratulate him on his splendid record and their best wishes go with him for a successful life. ## ONE FIGHTING PARSON

Knocked German Captor Out With a Stone and Escaped.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
With the American Army at the Aisne, July 26—(Night)—A militant American chaplain, who was captured by the German, just south of Soissons, taught a good lesson to a German non-commissioned officer.

When the chaplain was taken the German "non-com" shouted at him in good English: "You dirty American, follow me; I don't want to see any American walk ahead of a German."
The chaplain followed until he saw a road and ran down it. He seized a stone and threw it at the German officer, knocking him down. Then he fled.

The German pursued the chaplain, firing his pistol but the latter made good his escape, reaching the American lines.

MANY ATTRACTIONS AT NAPANOCH FARM MEET

There is nothing in the world that does any person more good than to have a day of relaxation from the regular hum drum course of work which must grow tiresome. It provides an opportunity to really forget your troubles and be sociable with your neighbors. Besides nothing will help you to meet your problems successfully and better than just to know how the other fellow does it. It has been said by one writer that "nothing broadens a man so much as to travel and associate with his fellow men." This is a very true statement and the country people are coming to realize it as well as the city people. That is why we encourage agricultural meetings, community meetings, farmer's institutes, picnics, etc. And that is the very reason why this mammoth agricultural meeting of the people of three counties has been provided for at Napanoch. It will give all the farmers and farmers' wives a chance to meet with both neighbors and strangers and talk over their problems. For one day the farmers will forget about their troubles with the pesky insects that destroy their crops; the fire blight that injures their orchards; the contagious abortion that infects their valuable dairy cows; the difficulty of securing farm help and other problems that try their patience and pocket books. Incidentally forgetting about the obstacles in your path and learning about your neighbor's problems which are no less than yours, you will learn how to apply your neighbor's methods if they prove to be more successful than your own.

You will see at this meeting many of the best tractors in operation. Some day you will want to buy one. Here you have a chance to choose from thirteen or fifteen of the best makes. The address by Dr. W. H. Jordan, one of our really big agricultural men, will be of interest to every man and woman in the three counties. Every farmer in the three counties is interested in the growing of better crops. Farmers will have a chance to stop at good farms along the road and study the crops and methods. Also the examination of Mr. Young's crops at Napanoch will be a prominent feature of the day. This alone will be of inestimable value to every farmer.

The Woman's Home Economies' Association will have an exhibit of modern household and food conservation exhibits. Farmers from Orange, Sullivan and Ulster counties will have a splendid opportunity to study several different makes of tractors next Tuesday at the Farm Bureau summer meeting to be held at Napanoch. The New York State Food Commission co-operating with the Farm Bureau Association of Orange, Sullivan and Ulster counties has arranged to make this demonstration one of the big features of the day. Some of the tractor companies that will be represented in this demonstration are: Avery, Moline, International, Case, Chase, Maxum, Cleveland, Caterpillar and Ford. Some of the companies will have two types or sizes present. This opportunity comes but once a year. Take advantage of it while you can. Remember that the tractor demonstration is but one of many good things you may see or hear on that day.

Didn't Get the Men.
Port Ewen, N. Y., July 25, 1918.—In your issue of July 23rd you stated that six volunteers from the Farm Bureau had come on my farm. The statement is incorrect, and I wish you to make correction in your paper by publishing this notice. The facts are as follows: On Friday, July 19th, I telephoned to the Farm Bureau for five volunteers to help me thresh rye on Tuesday, July 23. I was assured that they would be on the job. Now they not only did not come, but they did not notify me they were not coming, so I could look elsewhere for help. I finally secured enough of the Port Ewen boys ranging in age from sixty to seventy-five to help me out of the hole that the volunteers put me in. This was my first experience with city volunteer farm help and it will certainly be my last.

MAVERICK CONCERT PROGRAM TOMORROW

"Musical chestnuts," according to the committee responsible for the selections, will be the program at the next Maverick Sunday-afternoon concert, to be given tomorrow at 4 o'clock in the rustic music hall near Woodstock. "Famous music, that everybody should know—and few people outside of musical circles really do," might be an equally apt way of putting it.

Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata, probably the most famous sonata of the world's most famous composer, will be the first number. The story of the composition of this masterpiece is as familiar as the composition itself. It belongs to that musical, romantic Germany of the last century, with which we are not, and never can be, at war. Its spirit is closer to modern America than to the debased Germany of this day. It has, perhaps, seldom found a better interpreter than Charles Cooper, the French-trained American pianist, now living at the Maverick, who will play it tomorrow.

After several shorter pieces, including such well-loved "chestnuts" as Chopin's F sharp major nocturne and Rubinstein's Staccato Etude, Pierre Menotti and Mr. Cooper will render a Mendelssohn concerto, the opening number of which, allegro appassionato is world-famous for its emotional quality. Together with the melodious andante and finale that complete it, this concerto represents "chestnut" music at its best. It is the most beautiful and of the more popular classical compositions.

At a later concert, Miss Elise Hasbrouck of Kingston will be the soloist. Miss Hasbrouck's charming voice, grown more sure with careful training, is winning increased appreciation.

MACHINE GUNNER NOW IN FRANCE

HERMAN DUBOIS.

Co. A, 303rd Machine Gun Battalion, A. E. F., France. Drafted April 5, 1918. A recent letter received by his mother is as follows:

Somewhere in France.

Friday, June 28, 1918.

Dear Mother and All:—
I just finished writing a letter to Grace just now and told her that her brother was over to see me but forgot to tell her that he was training only about three miles from where I am. You can take my word for this that when I return I sure will have some tales to tell you about this country; only wish that I could tell you about it in these letters but it wouldn't be safe to do so because if some of the enemy's spies should get a hold of it, it may not only endanger my life but 100's of others also, so will just be patient and hold it until I get back. That will make a fine story to tell you all Christmas. Come to think of it, it may seem lots early but while I think of it I will tell you. If I should be over here Christmas which I don't think I will be, why don't attempt to send me any present because of the poor facilities in that line and when I come back why I will have my hand out for all donations. Well how is every one on 199 Wall anyway; hope they all feel as good as I do and they will have no kick coming. How is grandma? Give her my best regards and tell her that the sweater she knitted me is sure giving me some comfort. Well will drop a line in a couple of days. Your affectionate son.

HERMAN.

WHERE IT DIDN'T START.

Friday's Outbreak Was Thrust Upon the Fuller Employees.

Jesse C. Klein, manager for James S. Fuller, Inc., takes exception to a statement made in an article in T. C. Freeman last evening regarding the outbreak of enthusiasm Friday over a false report that the Allies had captured the German Crown Prince, that "the affair seems to have started in the Fuller shirt factory." Manager Klein denies that "the affair" started at the Fuller factory. He stated to a Freeman representative that two or three times girls from other factories came to the Pine Grove avenue plant endeavoring to get his employees to parade and he ordered them away, but after a time about 25 girls marched there and finally prevailed on many of the Fuller operatives to quit work and join in the parade. They therefore did not start the affair and the manager endeavored to keep the girls at work until the story of a big victory by the Americans was officially confirmed. Insofar as the Fuller employees contributing towards providing comforts for the American soldiers at the front, they have done so generously whenever called on at the factory and will continue to do so individually but not as a body.

Mones Passed Examination.

Bernard B. Mones, a graduate of Spencer's Business School, has been notified by the authorities at Washington that he passed the Civil Service examination successfully on June 14. Mr. Mones secured a mark of 99 per cent in typewriting and very high percentages in the other subjects. He has been certified for appointment in the judge advocate general's office at an initial salary of $1,100 per annum with chances for promotion to $1,200 after three months' service. Mr. Mones left immediately for his new position and his many friends in Spencer's Business School congratulate him on his splendid record and their best wishes go with him for a successful life. There is an urgent demand just at present for capable stenographers and young people should get busy and obtain the special civil service training given at the Spencer's Business School.
